HUSKY HEROES

{Every Hero Has a Story}

The Robotics team, GACO 1629, demonstrate their heroics as they receive the Chairman's Award at their First Robotics Competition in Southwest Virginia.

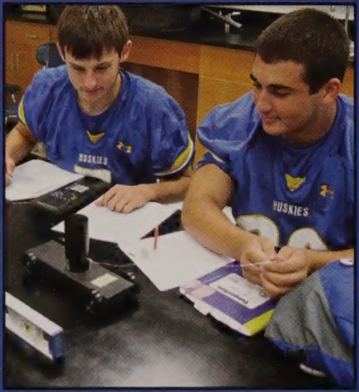
The secret heroes behind the Vault's Literary Arts Magazine, Voices of the Vault, work hard on their production. These students help illuminate the often unsung heroes, the writers and budding artists, in the building.

Cody Humberson (10) works on a color contrast project in Art II.

Colton Houser (12) and Nick Harris (12), Northern football players, show thier heroics, using teamwork both on and off the field.



Blake Dewitt (11) works in the greenhouse in hopes of a fruitful planting season. The Agriculture students sell their wares to community members every year in the beginning of May.

Bocce members help each other out to win a match. The school had the pleasure of watching.

What does it mean to be a hero? Northern High School students demonstrate their heroics by studying hard in the classroom and striving to excel in athletics, all while lending a helping hand to classmates and community organizations. To them, being husky heroes means not only being the best that they can be but also helping others achieve their best as well. This fundamental truth is central to the story of Northern High School. Whether raising money for Relay for Life or working hard to pass AP exams, students demonstrate the courage and attributes of heroes.

The Girls' Varsity Club and Relay for Life Club members are all smiles at their fundraiser pasta dinner. They have been participating in this fundraiser for five years, and this year they were able to raise even more money to donate to the Northern Garrett Relay For Life.

Andrea House (12) and Howard Feng (12), walk as prince and princess at Snowball.

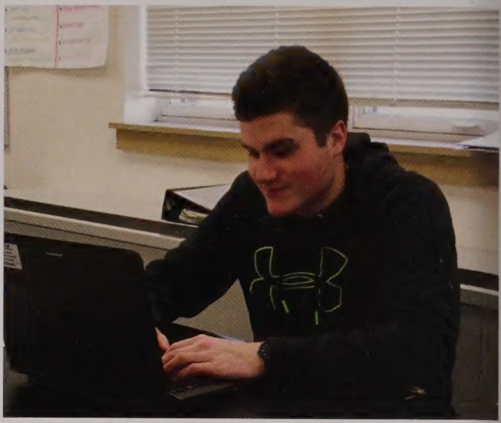
Madison Dolchan (12), Olivia Bennet (12), and Bailey Brewer (12) brainstorm ideas for the school's morning show. As part of the original morning crew staff, these senior had definitely gone "where no man had gone before."



Ryan Weimer (12) works independently on his computer during enrichment. Enrichment provided seniors much needed study time in their busy schedules.

Being a senior means that you have to enjoy every minute with your friends. Abigail Burdock (12), Jenna Ruggiero (12), and Heritage Hamp (12) make the most of "down time" with friends their senior year. They spend time during lunch break talking about schoolwork, after-school activities and what they're going to do after they graduate.

They will be gone in a flash...

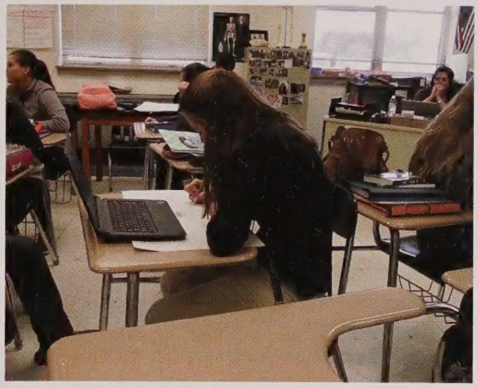
Super Senior Year!

Artwork by Emily James

Jinny Warn (12) and Denver Glotfelty (12) stay out of the rain as they await the announcement of Homecoming Court.



Haley Lowdermilk (12) works on a drawing in Mrs. Powell's room during enrichment. Seniors found this time useful for working on a variety of school projects.

I AM:
Lung Cancer!
I AM:
Taking my own LIFE!
I AM:
An ugly HEART

Ally Landis (12) Abigail Sisler (12) and Andrea House (12) hold signs for the Youth In Action Club to help spread awareness of the dangers of smoking.

Calyb King (12) celebrates with proud parents at his senior night for basketball.

Megan Knox (12) visits Accident Elementary School as part of her Child Care course.

To the seniors, it seems like the years have been flying by like Superman flew to the moon and back. The past four years have been their time to shine while creating the very stories in which each one of them has a chance to play the hero. They're dedicated, independent, "super" intelligent, and hard-working people who do so much to please and protect others.

Although they may look like an ordinary group of students, after school, many changed into the roles of super athletes, star employees, and community volunteers, dedicating themselves fully to their convictions, adhering to the words of Spiderman "You owe the world your gifts, you just have to figure out how to use them."

What do you miss the most about your home country? I miss the food and New Year counting down.

What made you want to come to the United States? I really wanted to come to the USA, to go to different cities and to experience different activities.

Is schooling harder or easier than your home country? Why? I think it is harder because my English is not very good. I like English, so I will try to learn it; I work hard.

What is the most interesting thing you have seen in America? The most interesting thing I have seen is the snow.

Describe your school in your home country? It is really boring and my classmates were not really happy in their classes. I really wanted my education to be like in the USA.

What's the difference between this senior year and your final year of schooling in your home country? I think it is the same, there is not really a big difference, but I think the American senior year is better than in Taiwan, a little.

How are the sports different from sports in your home country? Oh, like football is very popular in USA, but in Taiwan, very seldomly do people play this sport. The other sports are the same, though.

What has suprised you most about your time in the United States? Actually, I won Homecoming King, which was really surprising and exciting.

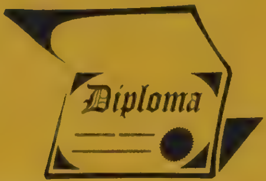
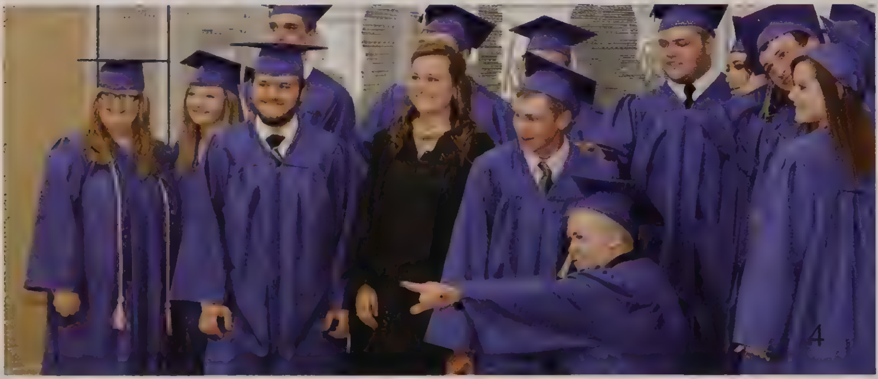
OUR HUGE EX17



"Class of 2017, I leave you with this: do not allow your life to be assembled into a perfectly conforming puzzle; you are so much more. I have seen it."

Jenna Ruggiero



1. Jenna Ruggerio gives her valedictory speech to the class of 2017.

2. Finding themselves at the end of the alphabet, Justin Wilhelm, Jacob Winebrenner, Hailey Yommer, Logan Yommer and Kiana Yutzy must wait patiently to receive their diplomas.

3. Kaitlyn Smith and Morgan Rush, the 2017 class presidents, give their speech and prepare to give the mantle to the new and incoming senior class president, Alexis Burow.

4. The seniors who participated in FFA pose for a picture and celebrate with Mrs. Yost, FFA adviser.

5. Clicking his heels in celebration, Jacob Toothman exits the stage. His action embodied the joy most of his classmates felt upon receiving their diplomas.

6. Rebecca Meyers and Samantha Michaels stand before being instructed to change the position of the tassels on their hats from the right side to the left, symbolizing the official completion of their high school careers.

7. Gabriella White, class Salutatorian, addresses her classmates during the ceremony. The race for the top two positions in the class was so particularly close this year, a testament to the hard-work, talent and dedication of the class of 2017.

COLTON JONES
Q: What is your biggest fear about graduating and why?
A: I fear "going into the workforce. I'm not sure if I'm going to like a job that I pick."

GERRI HARMAN
Q: What do you plan on doing after graduation and what is your major?
A: "I plan on going to Garrett College. I am undecided on my major."

CAMERON KING
Q: What was the highlight of your senior year?
A:"I haven't really had one highlight. I've just tried to enjoy everyday I have left in high school."

REBECCA MEYERS
Q: What was the best part of your senior year?
A: "The best part of my senior year was being able to be a part of the cross country team, making it to states, and seeing Ana Rhoten finish first."

CALEB MURRAY DEAL
Q: What will you miss most about high school?
A: "Friends, Ag class, and auto (except for that time Mrs. Yost left, then it sucked)."

Shawn Zimmerman (10), shows his superhero powers by using his guitar skills. He received a National Merit Award for being first place for his arrangement of the song "It is Well" in the guitar solo category. It was held in Louisville, Kentucky with over 14,000 students.

In Mrs. Virts's first period Theatre I students, play a shape-shifting game to warm up for class. The students take the form of eye glasses. The students have so much fun in Theatre I. They are able act goofy and still gain valuable skills to become better performers. Student performers learn that you can indeed become anyone (or anything) you choose to be.

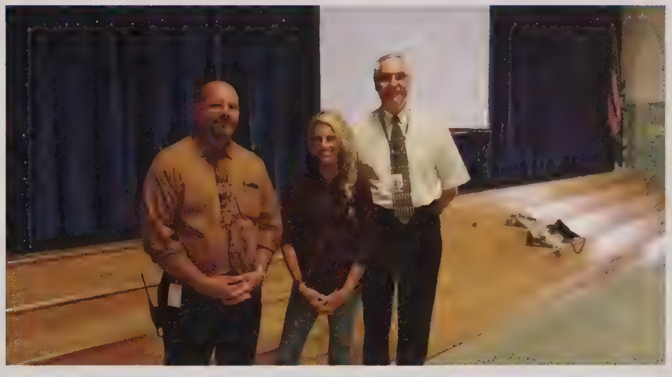
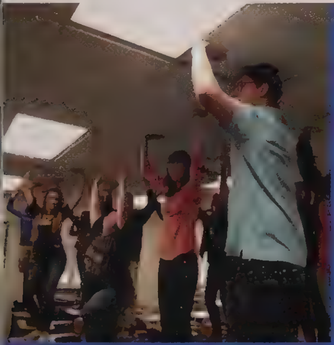
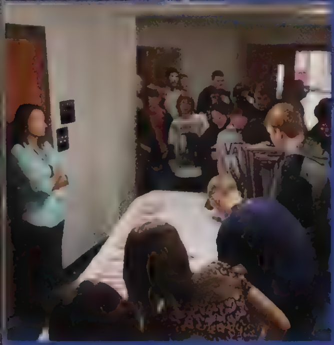
In Mrs. Virts's homeroom, two students preform the form of a football sled while playing the game "shape-shifters."



Lifetime Challenge: Mr. Gary Reichenbecher and Mr. Matthew Eggleston pose with a representative from Rachel's Challenge. Rachel's Challenge presented students with five challenges to make the world a better place.



rs. Fleming's fourth period Honors English II lass show their heroics by "holding up their rades" and also the ceiling.



inth grade students sign a Rachel's hallenge poster after the assembly, taking e first step to participate in the challenge.

Students are everyday heroes. They may not have the power to run as fast as Flash, but you may see the kindness of their heart through their willingness to do something for others; no matter how big or small. Students take on challenges every day, especially in academics.

So what defines a hero? For Northern High School many things define a hero. According to Jacob Winebrenner (12) "A hero is someone who can put other people above himself". Another student, Savannah Slayton (11), says "A hero is someone who saves someone." These huskies both agree that a hero must be focused on others.

Working hard during the school day does not stop the husky heroes from having fun outside of school. In addition to their academics, husky heroes love to take part in extracurricular activities. These activities can include painting classes, hunting, dancing, Northern High School sporting events, and more. "I like to hunt, and a lot of my time outside of school is spent hunting. It helps me relax and not be so stressed," says Jake Toothman (12) when asked what extra activities he participates in outside of school.

Ready To Work

Carly Rodeheaver (11) concentrates on showing her pig for the crowd and the judges. Raising animals is hard work, but the fun times and awards received at fair make it all worthwhile.

Joy Riding

Mrs. Stough enjoys the weather by going for a bike ride at the Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming.

Taking A Walk

Luke Canan (10) gets some fresh air with his pig by going for a walk outside the fair barns. Exercise is imperative for animals as well.

Furry Friend

Morgan Rush (12) gets the opportunity to meet a super cute koala while on the summer trip to Australia with Mrs. Savage. Surprisingly, she didn't take the little guy home with her.

Show Time

Samantha Wilt (9) stops for a picture while she practices and prepares her steer for show at the fair. Competitors must work with their animals until the very last minute before showtime.

Fiji Fun

During their summer trip, Mrs. Savage and her group of students made a stop at a village in Fiji and enjoyed a meal. Different foods are excellent indicators of culture.

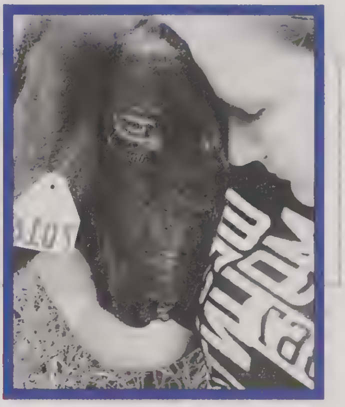
SUMMER 2016

Every summer has a story. Let's remember this summer's story by looking back at the memories that were made.

Collin Fratz (12) takes a break from training his steer in order to have a little fun. Summer wouldn't be summer without taking a few breaks from the work that has to be done.

Rebecca Folk (12) poses with her prize-winning lamb. All of the time and effort she put into her animals was definitely worth it.

Morgan Carr (12) smiles next to a family horse named Buck. Animals have a special place in Morgan's heart and spending her summer with Buck was lots of fun.



Emma Broadwater (10) snuggles up to her lamb over the summer. Apart from an animal's obvious needs, animals also need love to thrive, and Emma makes sure to deliver it.

Homecoming 2016

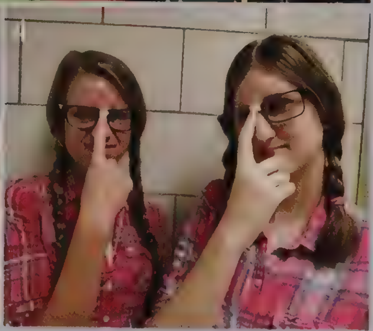
Dancing the night away "Somewhere on a Beach" is the best way to shake away the end-of-summer blues!

Alexis House (9) and Hunter Wilhelm (9) kick off their freshman year by being crowned as Prince and Princess. Their smiles tugged at the crowd's heartstrings.

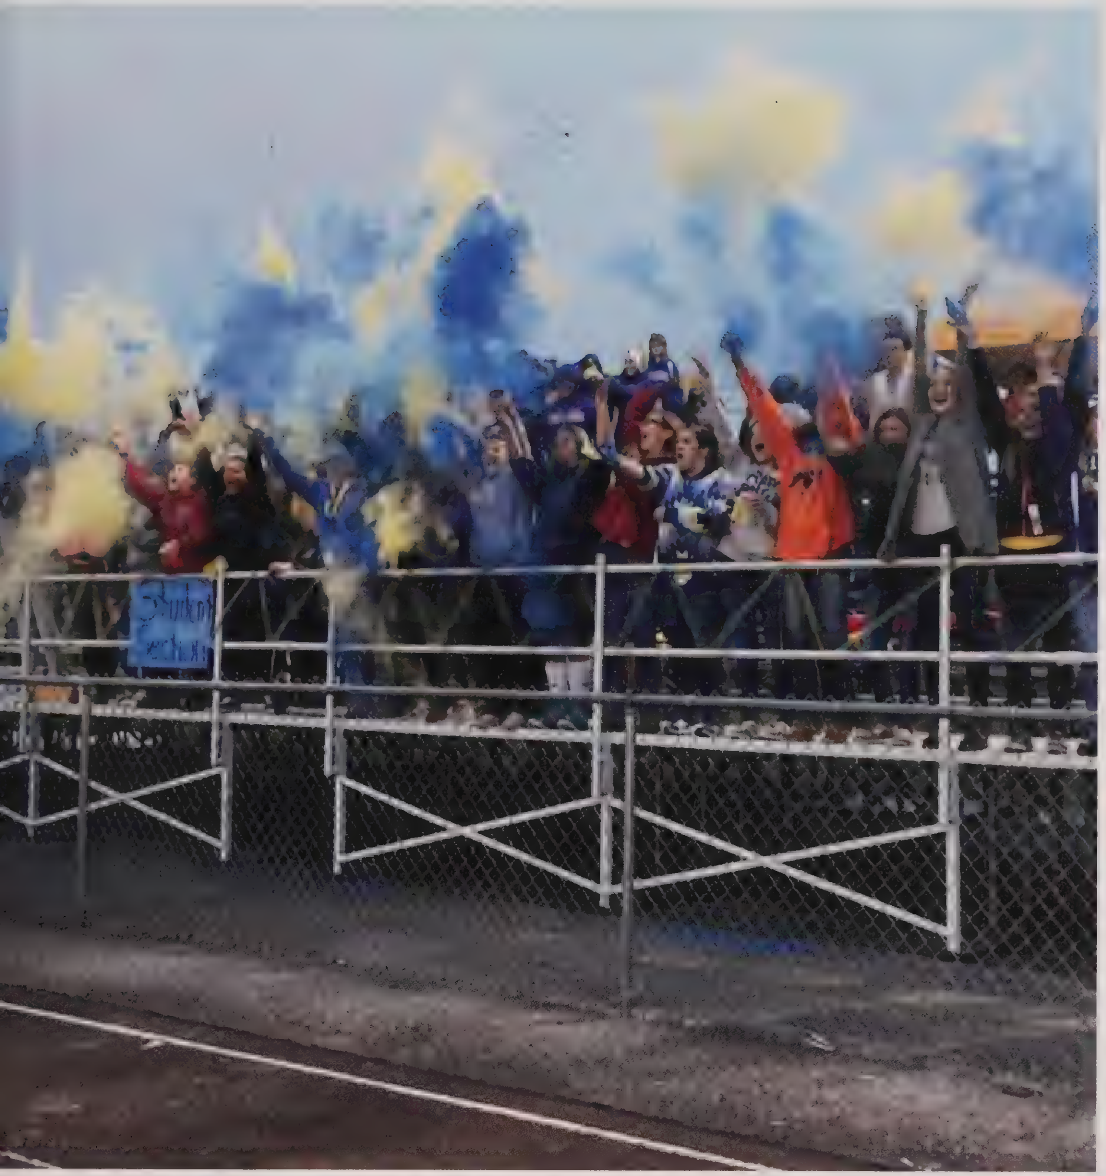
Gracie Metts (10) and Peyton Carr (10) strut down the track to be acknowledged for being voted onto the homecoming court. Both students were excited to be greeted by the crowd.

Bryce Jones (11) hugs his friend Haley Ross (11) in celebration of winning Junior Prince and Princess. This was Bryce's third consecutive win and Haley's first.

Jinny Warn (12) and Howard Feng (12) are crowned as Senior King and Queen. Howard, a foreign exchange student, received an abundant amount of cheers that made him jump with joy.



1. Kyndal Rayner (11) and Carly Rodeheaver (11) were hunters on Twin Day.
2. The art class dresses as a fruit bowl for Tropical Day.
3. Nick Harris (12), Mason Keister (12) and Hunter Keister (10) show their school spirit by tropical wearing shirts in memory of the Keisters' late grandfather.
4. Shelby Gray (11) and Kylee Peck (11) bring out their nerdy side on twin day.
5. Holly Schlossnagle (11), Ashley Meyers (11) and Doris Jenkins (12) greet fans with the school's mascot.



Run Brunswick Off the Tracks!
The student section throws blue and gold powder up into the air as the game begins, a fun-filled tradition that colorfully shows school spirit in support of the team.

Just Dance!
The cheer team shows off their moves to a song they requested at the dance. After a cold night at the football game, the Homecoming dance was a perfect ending to the week.

Smiles All Around

Abigail Sisler (12) gets crowned as Senior Princess at the Homecoming game on September 30th. Thankfully, the rainy weather didn't discourage school spirit!

Everyone's Go-To Team

The Huskies break through the banner as the crowd cheers encouragingly in support of their favorite team. The cheering crowd helped lead the team to victory, winning 63-0.

Give Me an N-H-S!

Lauren Derato (10) cheers on the Huskies after they score one of many touchdowns that game.

A Prince is Born

Nate Durst (12) is crowned Senior Prince alongside Abigail Sisler (12). The crowd, dressed head to toe in blue and gold, cheered as his name was called.

Sadie Powell and Jordan Hetz take a break after work hard at the pancake dinner to benefit the FFA progran

Earlier this year the North Garrett FFA visited the Route 40 Elementary School to teach the kids about agriculture and the FFA. On their visit, the FFA students taught the fifth graders at Route 40 how to make pumpkin pie in a bag.

Ally Kisner and Abby Kisner sell raffle tickets at the FFA sponsored pancake dinner.

Clubs give students a chance to come together and grow their passions. They provide a great opportunity for kids to get together and spread knowledge and kindness. Students of all grades can participate in clubs.

The Youth in Action, Relay for Life and EMS Clubs are just three examples of clubs that give students an opportunity to learn and serve their communities while clubs like FFA, Robotics and Envirothon help students prepare for competition in fields of interest. Student council leads many activities and events and works together with other organizations like Girls' Varsity and the Relay for Life Club to plan a Relay for Life every year where clubs raise money to donate to the American Cancer Society.

No matter what their interests, students found ways to have fun and serve others as members of clubs and organizations.

Ever Wonder?

Why did you join JROTC? Do you plan on going into the military? How long have you been in JROTC?

"I joined because I wanted respect, I've been in JROTC for 4 years. I enlisted in December. I leave in July for basic training."

Anthony Hankins, 12

Why did you become a member of the art club?

"I joined art club because art is my passion... it's something I really want to succeed in. The more practice I can get in, the better."

Emily James, 12

What's your favorite part of being in Morning News Club? What's your favorite memory?

"My favorite things about being on the news is doing it with people I love, including Mrs. Virts. My favorite memory was the day we did the mannequin challenge while filming."

Keegan Pitts, 9

What made you join FFA? What do you do in FFA?

"I joined FFA because I liked the lessons and discipline. We learn about how important agriculture is to the world. We also learn about responsibility."

Emma Broadwater, 10

What made you join painting club? What have you painted? What was your favorite?

"I joined painting club because I've been painting since I was 7 years old. Also, it lets you be involved in something school typically doesn't focus on. So far we've painted the Northern Lights, so that would be my favorite."

Casey Rounds, 10

1. AP Computer Science Club reviews an assignment.
2. The members of FFA prepare for a fundraiser. Selling poinsettias helps FFA raise money to travel to competitions and trips throughout the school year.
3. Travis Georg (11) salutes the American flag while he retires the last piece of it during the Veteran's Day ceremony.
4. Zachary Miller(10), Brooke Rishel(11), and Emily Shugars(9) enjoy playing badminton against each other during their enrichment time in best buddies.
5. The FFA members meet in the library for a meeting during their enrichment period. The members stand at the end of the meet to do the FFA pledge.

Getting to Know Your Classmates

Why did you join FOR Club?
"I joined the FOR Club because I think that it is important to spread kindness all around."
Madilynn Thomas, 9

What have you learned in AP Computer Science Club?
I have learned "how to make programs with Java and Python."
Austin Buckel, 11

Why did you become a part of the Literary Art Magazine? What do you enjoy about it?
"I like to write and be creative; the magazine lets me do this. I enjoy reading other people's stories."
Leighanna Wilhelm, 11

What do you enjoy most about being in Electric Car (Club)?
I like working on the car and learning new things about the car."
Ian [illegible]ice, 10

What made you become a member of the Youth & Action Club?
"I wanted to make a difference in younger lives."

English

Learning a Skill Set...not a Language

Do you know what is special about the following sentence? "The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog.'" This type of sentence is called a 'pangram' as it uses every letter in the English language (Bloomsbury News Blog). While students don't usually spend time writing pangrams in English classes, they are encouraged to pursue the highest level course possible. The levels are General, Merit, Honors, Dual Enrollment or an Advanced Placement course.

> "A reader lives a thousand lives before he dies, the man who never reads lives only one."
> George RR Martin

Throughout the English department, there are various levels provided. English I is the introduction of literary genres. English II explores World Literature and begins literary analysis. English III covers on American Literature, with a discussion of literary works. English Language Composition AP, for 11th Grade, expands on becoming a skilled writer and reader and becoming aware of the interactions of the effectiveness in writing. English IV focuses on British Literature with a revision of student-generated, written responses. English Literature and Composition AP, 12th Grade, is a course focusing on individual and independent abilities to analyze literary works. There are also electives available in the English department. This gives the students an opportunity to express their English skills in other ways. Journalism Yearbook gives students the chance to produce the annual publication, the yearbook. Rebecca Meyers says, "Yearbook allows me to improve my grammar, and I enjoy the opportunity of helping create the Yearbook." Journalism Newspaper has participation in the production of writing articles for the whole student body. Creative Writing demonstrates and practices techniques in various forms of creative expression. SAT Prep is to strengthen the student's preparedness for taking the SAT and develop an understanding of the purpose.

Mathematics

Students Super at Solving Problems

Mathematics has had a substantial impact on humans for more than two thousand years. From Algebra I to Calculus students learn specific formulas to use in the real world. Learning to think in mathematical terms is a vital part of becoming an educated person.

To help students master these terms, Northern offers a variety of math courses. These courses include Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Pre-Calculus, and Calculus. In Algebra, students study different equations and solve real world problems. Geometry is the study of shape, size, position and properties of space. Pre- Calculus studies Algebra and Trigonometry as two separate parts of the course. Calculus is the study of how things change. Kayley Sisler (11) says, "My favorite part of math is learning all the different formulas."

Students also have the opportunity to take Personal Financial Management to learn to apply problem solving and mathematical skills to their personal finances, preparing them to better manage money in the future.

> "Pure mathematics is, in its own way, the poetry of logical ideas."
> Albert Einstein

Nick Harris has shown his interest in math this year by taking AP Calculus. While taking AP Calculus, Nick succeeds in his other classes as well. Nick says, "My favorite thing about Calculus is the challenging work that we do, and I plan on using it for engineering."

Bailey Brewer, 12

Bailey Brewer prospers in AP Calculus. She will later decide whether she wants to pursue a career in business or teaching. Bailey says, "I like the many things we can achieve through Calculus. I plan on either going into business or teaching, using math for both fields."

Emma Broadwater (10) uses the computer in Mrs. Kirchner's geometry class to take a practice test. Students can use technology to take all different types of math classes to help them solve real world problems.

Science

Solving Problems One Experiment at a Time

From the wonders of Chemistry to the practicality of Environmental Science, these classes allow students to open up their minds to the world around them. By solving real-world problems, students are preparing themselves for the problems that may present themselves in their future.

> "The whole of science is nothing more than a refinement of everyday thinking"
> Albert Einstein

Many students taking science classes have solved real world issues and provided helpful information to environmental studies. In Biology II, the students gave their assistance in order to record the number of Brook Trout in the local Cove Run stream. In Mr. Price's Chemistry in the Community class, the students learn how to filter water which is something that, given certain circumstances, could be extremely beneficial. Physics is no different with its focus on Newtonian mechanics. Heroes are being shaped at Northern High School, and what's a hero without the ability to problem solve?

Colton Houser, 12

Colton Houser has shown his interest in science this year. While taking AP Physics, he questioned which pathway he should pursue, Chemistry or Physics. "Learning about science is awesome because it teaches you about how life works," he pronounces about his favorite subject.

Jenna Ruggiero, 12

Jenna Ruggiero, on top of her interest in art, shines brightly in her science classes. AP Physics is one of her many strong suits. "Science opens your eyes to, well, life," she says. Jenna sure knows the importance of problem-solving in the real world!

Lyndsay Fuller, 10

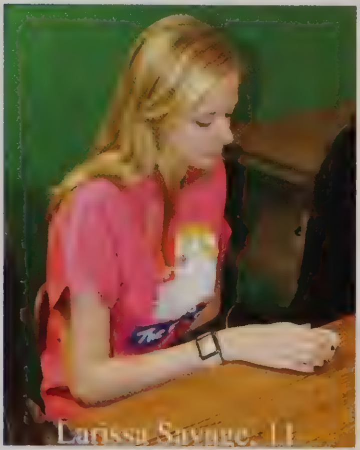
Cayla Lewis, 12

Social Studies covers a much broader amount of information than just history. In Government, students can understand what goes on in the nation's democracy beyond just the media coverage. World History and U.S. History cover the important events in the world's past while psychology is a journey into the workings of the human mind. It is important for students to be aware of the diversity of social interactions and the past to improve the future.

"We are not makers of history.
We are made by history."

Martin Luther King, Jr.

Every day, students are using the skills they learn in their social studies classes to make an impact on the world. By learning about the Holocaust and World War II in U.S. History, students are discovering the real horrors behind discrimination and oppression. Understanding the past can help prevent repetitive mistakes. Subjects like psychology accomplish the same thing. Being informed about different mental disorders can teach a student how to demonstrate appropriate social skills. Providing information to students about the past, the government and the social interactions they will experience every day, leads the future generation in the right direction.



Larissa Savage, 11

Art

Consider the Possibilities

Art is an opportunity to express yourself as an individual completely. In art class, students are given all the tools to be as freely creative as they desire. For these reasons, the art room not only has a great learning environment, but isn't shy of creativity. It's this kind of environment that keeps the art students comfortable to express themselves through their work adequately.

> "Art teaches creativity and that is important no matter what you do"
> Mr. Paxton

Northern offers nine art courses starting with Art I for all interested students and continuing through Advanced Studio Art for more sophisticated student artists.. Most students take Art I, but for those hoping to complete more advanced coursework, there are a variety of art classes offered. The difficulty level increases as students gain more experience. These courses include Pottery, Descriptive Art, and much more. The variety offered throughout the courses help students expand their knowledge and experience in art.

Theatre is a wonderful opportunity for high school students to express themselves and discover the importance of entertainment. In Theatre I, the class tackles the history of Theatre, which is known to have become prominent in Ancient Greece. By reading plays and taking on small roles, the class is learning the basics of the art and preparing for more fun, rigorous roles. Theatre II, on the other hand, is a bit more advanced, jumping straight into productions and playwrighting.

> "The theater is so endlessly fascinating because it's so accidental. It's so much like life."
> Arthur Miller, playwright

The main focus of the theatre community is acceptance, and that is shown in shimmering colors backstage. Both the Theatre I class and the Theatre II class have worked together as the cast of the two class plays presented this school year, Aladdin and Murder's in the Heir. "Drama, ironically enough, is the one place where there is usually no drama," says student Bailey Brewer (12). In addition to the strong bond formed between the students in the theatre classes, other students are included during the out-of-class musical productions; this year's being Bye Bye Birdie. Through every audition, every rehearsal, and every performance, students are discovering themselves and making lasting friendships along the way.

Sally Bittinger, 11

Just Hanging Around!

The cast of Murder's in the Heir is no stranger to goofing off during rehearsals. With all the stress that comes with putting up a production, it is always important to have fun along the way.

Leadership SPOTLIGHT

Madison Dolchan, 12

Madi Dolchan has had a successful high school career in theatre. This year she scored the leading role of Aladdin in the fall musical. Her leadership skills keep the cast and crew in check behind the scenes, and her vibrant spirit keeps things interesting! To top it all off, Madi is vice president of our Thespian Society.

Bailey Brewer, 12

Bailey Brewer gives her all in theatre and doesn't let anything stand in her way of delivering a fantastic performance. Helping others who forget their lines is her forte. In addition to all her accomplishments, Bailey is the president of Northern High School's chapter of the Thespian Society.

Health & P.E.

Train To Be A Superhero

Health and Physical Education is a graduation requirement; both are half credits equaling to one full credit. Students usually take this class their freshman year. Mrs. Stough provides variety by having special visitors come in and talk to students about health. In physical education, students need an appropriate level of physical fitness. The class plays different games every week. As students are often sitting in desks throughout the day, these classes provide a welcome change and help students by providing some activity.

On the county's first annual spirit day, Mrs. Stough shows her spirit covered in head to toe in blue and gold. Her sign explains her 40 years of being a husky fan.

Mrs. Stough, Faculty

After completing Health and Physical Education, students may take physical activity and/or weight training their sophomore, junior, and senior year. Physical activity is a class where students can play games and practice fitness. Weight training is for students who want to improve strength and muscular endurance. These classes can help students that are in sports and athletics to improve their skills. Making Our Mark

Skills As Solid As The Wood We Use

Carpentry is a class where students learn skills that could help them not only on a future job site with framing or heavy construction but may also come in handy as they make everyday items for their own homes. Carpentry I is where students demonstrate knowledge related to types of construction, the materials, hand tools, power tools, site conditions, and safety on the job. They often complete small projects of their choosing to take home and enjoy.

> "Everyone makes mistakes, but it is important be willing to help someone else through their mistakes"
> Mr. Beitzel

In Carpentry II students begin to learn more advanced skills related to home construction such as reading blueprint design and using leveling instruments. They also learn foundation construction and how to construct (floor, wall, and ceiling) framing. Carpentry III is where students perform and show their knowledge of frame construction, energy conservation, and different construction methods. They learn how to do exterior finishing, interior, stairway construction and finally concrete heavy construction.

Students graduating from the carpentry program gain skills that will either help them make money as a carpenter or save money by not having to hire someone else to do their woodwork in the future.

Automotive Technology is a three course pathway where students are introduced to new skills and techniques, including everything from changing a tire to learning about fuel systems, engine service and repair. Many students who take these classes are very serious about what they learn, knowing that they will certainly use their knowledge, either in a future career in auto mechanics or to work on their own vehicles.

> I think Machine Tool is a really good class. I like this class because it's hands on.

Manufacturing Engineering Technology (often referred to as Machine Tool) is a class where students learn the principals and the operations of engineering. Students with choosing this pathway have an opportunity to earn a NIMS certificate. The superheroes in this class learn to apply critical thinking and the skills they have been taught. They learn on-the-job safety, milling, grinding, welding, and many other skills that are needed in manufacturing.

Allied Health & Child Care

Comfort, Compassion, And Caring

In Allied Health, students prepare for a career in health care by learning how to give CPR, how to make beds when in a hospital or a nursing home, and how to push a gurney around just in case they need to. They also learn medical terminology like suffixes, roots, and prefixes for medical words. After taking this class they can take a test to get their CNA license. So if you would like or want to become a nurse or nursing assistant, then this class is for you.

Practice: The Effort That Makes Winning Possible

This year's Northern Huskies Varsity Football Team experienced a legendary season. This is the first time in 15 years the team has ended their regular season with a 7-0 record. Contributing to their success was a core group of senior players who will be greatly missed next year.

Coach Carr also experienced a personal milestone this season, celebrating his 100th win as the team's coach with a victory over Frankfort, with a score of 32-13.

This year's season ended with a tough loss as the Huskies who battled Fort Hill in the playoffs, with a score of 6-42. Although the varsity team did not get to play in the state championships, overall it was an outstanding season.

Golf

Every Shot Counts

Although The Northern Golf team is small, the team has blossomed since they first started at Northern. When asked why Paul Zimmerman, a member of the golf team, enjoys playing golf, he answers, "Golf is a great way to be outside and enjoy what you're doing." The team's coach, Barb Goehringer, has always worked hard towards teaching the players the best strategies to be successful. The boys still have fun and enjoy what they're doing. When asked what a key component is in playing golf, Bailey Umbel, another member of the golf team, replies, "Patience is really important to have when playing golf, because sometimes it takes many shots to make it in."

This year was yet another great year for The Northern Golf team and all the boys said they plan on having another great season next year.

Girls' Soccer

The Lady Huskies Save the Day!

The Lady Huskies soccer team had a successful season with a record of 7-3-1. Most games, in fact, the girls did not allow their opponent to get a single goal. They began their regular season on September 6th by dominating Southern with a score of 7-0 and then ended on a high note by beating Southern again with a score of 2-0 on October 18th. Due to their successful record, they were third seed for playoffs. The Huskies beat Allegany High School 1-0 in their first playoff game, which allowed them to go on to play Mt. Ridge.

The Ladies played their hearts out and truly left everything they had on the field, making their final game of the season one of the most well-played games. Northern lost 3-2 to Mt.Ridge, but the girls walked off the field with their heads held high because they knew who was the better of the two teams. HUSKIES ON THREE!

Volleyball

We play volleyball. What's your superpower?

The girls' varsity volleyball team had a challenging season. This year they had 8 seasonal wins. Everyone on the team improved their skills and bonded together on and off the court. Although they had losses, they pushed each other to work harder. The girls played Allegany in the first round of playoffs and they played their hearts out. Unfortunately, their season ended in a loss.

This season, the varsity team had a record of 8-6, making this season one to remember. The JV team had a record of 6-8. Though this season was challenging, all the girls hope to do even better next year.

Bocce Ball

Northern Huskies roll their way to victory.

Northern's Bocce team had a rough start with a score of 0-3 in the first tournament but were able to turn the tables at the next one with a score of 3-0. The team continued to work hard and were able to beat the odds and make it to States. On February 22, the bocce team traveled to Hagerstown Community College to compete against many other successful teams. The final games against Urbana, Tuscarora, and Frederick Douglas lead to an impressive fourth place finish.

Say Cheese!
Nicole Keister (11), Zachary Miller (10), Bridget Weimer (10), Danielle Miller (9), and Brooke Rishel (11), just a few members of Northern's successful team, are all smiles as they wait for the court to be set up.

Boys' Basketball

If You Want To Go Far. Go Together.

The boys' basketball team had a challenging season. The JV team had a record of 10-10. The varsity team had a record of 9-15. Varsity started the season on December 7, playing Bishop Walsh and winning with a score of 45-30. The team worked hard together and made it to Regionals. During the first round, they beat Hancock with a score of 62-26, moving them forward to the Regional Quarterfinals. The team played their hearts out against Allegany and lost with a close score of 50-63. They walked off the court, knowing they played their hardest to have a successful season.

Girls' Basketball

Work Hard. Dream Big.

The Northern Huskies Basketball team had a very challenging but successful season. According to Coach Brenneman, both JV and Varsity were "well-balanced and always playing as a team." JV had a record of 1-12. Although they only had one win, the girls felt that they always put 100% effort into every game.Varsity had a record of 10-12. Varsity started their season off by taking on Hancock, winning 54-18. The girls ended their season on February 27th after playing Southern in the second round of playoffs. Although the girls lost 32-63, they pushed and fought as hard as they could to pull a win. Morgan Rush (12) scored 106 points throughout the season, and Tessa Gardner (12) scored 114 points. Morgan Rush (12) and Tessa Gardner (12) both entered the record books for Steals for scoring as many points as they did and helping to lead the team throughout the season.

Giving Thanks

Wrestling

Embrace the Grind.

Wrestling can be considered one of the toughest and most demanding sports. Athletes have to constantly monitor their weight and take an opponent down with strength, skill, strategy and precision. Northern has had a great team and been very successful with the help of their coaches. This year they sent four wrestlers to the states, with Devin Wilhelm breaking the school record of 129 wins.

The team had nine seniors this year, including Riley Brick, Brian Tiemersma, Hunter Shockey, Devin Wilhelm, Luke Lowery, Steven Yutzy, Jordon Grove, James Lewis and Robert Walker. They finished their season with a 25-2 record and did well in all their tournaments, having many podium finishes.

Their most intense matches were against county rival Southern.

Lets get motivated!
The wrestlers gather into their circle to mentally prepare and talk over their game plan for each and every player's match. A supportive team is a key to a winning season and the success of the wrestlers.

For the win!
Coaches Stein and Moranduzzo show their spirit for the boys by cheering them on as they face their opponents. Coaches play a huge role in keeping the wrestler's spirits up and making them the best they can be.

Cheerleading

Can't Hide Our Pride

The cheerleaders have a lot of spirit and pride in their school. They get the crowd of parents and students pumped up for NHS sports like football and soccer games. They wear their school colors blue and gold proudly. What is the definition of a Cheerleader? Ashley Meyers 11 says "someone who works hard and gives it a 110%." Most of the girls' favorite part of the season was football. What are their goals, in cheer and in life? Well, Lauren Derato 10 says "to keep growing as a team and achieving new heights."

Baseball

Teamwork: Covering the Bases for a Winning Season

The Husky baseball teams celebrate another winning season, as both JV and Varsity experienced success. JV Baseball had a record of 9-1, very impressive for a team that focuses primarily on the development of skills needed to play at the varsity level. Varsity had a record of 15-4. Another very victorious season for Northern Garrett spring athletics.

On top of a positive winning season Northern baseball won AMAC, Conference Champs and SSMAC, Conference Champs. Congratulations to all the seniors for ending their last season successfully.

Girls' Softball

Play Hard or Go Home

The girls' softball team started out the season with a win by defeating Bishop Walsh. Though they played hard, their second game handed them their first loss against Mountain Ridge. Throughout the season, the girls celebrated victories and suffered defeats but continued to strive to do their best. Hannah Lowdermilk (12) points this out as she describes her team as "hard working," noting that they have "a tough attitude" that is "paired with a positive mindset." These attributes shone throughout the season as the Lady Huskies made their school proud.

Hustle, Hit, and Never Quit
The Lady Huskies Softball Team knows that playing this spring sport is not easy at all. It takes a lot of determination, teamwork, and skill.

Tennis

Champions Keep Playing Until They Get It Right

Bothboysandgirlstennis had an enjoyable and exhilarating season. Tennis is a sport that involves both mental and physical capability.

The Northern Garrett tennis teams both played with all they had and gave it their all trying to score points to win matches. Members of the teams agree that tennis is a very addictive sport.

Whetherplayingsingles or doubles, members of both the girls' and the boys' teams worked to improve their own individual performances as well as the team as a whole.

More Than Just A Team!
Northern Garrett Ladies Tennis all consider themselves to be one big family. They all got very close throughout the exciting season. "I love you all," says Angela Wiland (11).

A Winner!
Megan Smith (10) playing 2nd doubles against Bishop Walsh High School with partner Jillian Wood (10) win 6-4 & 6-4! It was Megan's first win of the season! Congratulations Megan!

Track

Run Huskies Run!

The husky heroes in the halls are never shy of athletic spirit when participating in Northern's sports teams! Like others, track is very competitive and takes hard work and dedication, but it is also about having fun with your friends and doing something that you enjoy! The track team overall had a good season. The girls team had several great wins and hard loses as well as the boys team. The track team at regionals placed 5th and the girls team placed 4th; both teams qualified for states this year. The boys team included Austin Evans, Jacob Terry, Dylan McCann, John Brenneman and Reed Stolzenfels,. The girls team included Jenna Yommer, Faith Parandhamaia, Bailee Uphold, Taylor Wertz, Kylee Peck, Abby Burdock, Hailey Yommer, Jade Lewis, Haley Lowdermilk and Sadie Powell. Overall both teams did very well at states, the girls 4x800 finished in 5th, Jenna Yommer placed 8th in triple jump.The boys team Austin Evans received two state championships, and Jacob Terry also made it to the finals in the 110 hurdles. Taylor Wertz made it to finals in discus.

Austin Evans (12) captured two state championships by winning the 110 meter hurdles and winning the triple jump. He jumped 43 feet and 7 inches for the triple jump, and he ran the 110 hurdles in 15.4 seconds.

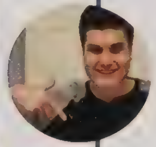
Faith Paramdhamia (11) How do you prepare for track in the off season? I play basketball, so I rarely have time to run.



Ryan Weimer (12) What made you decide to run track? It's a great way to get in shape and stay active, plus a lot of my friends run.

Jacob Winebrenner (12) What is your motivation in track? My motivation is all my friends run.

Jacob Terry (12) What's your favorite part about track and why? My favorite part about track is getting to goof off with my friends every day.

Kole Bennett (12) What's your favorite part of track? The meets and hanging with friends and having fun.

Hailey Yommer (12) How long have you been on the track team and what do you do? I've been a member of the track team for 4 years. I compete in the sprints, relays and triple jump.

John Brenneman (12) What is your least favorite thing about track? My least favorite things are Boonsboro and discus.

Bailey Burdock and the volleyball team support student athletes by raising money selling popcorn balls.

The community and the school often work together to help raise donations for many wonderful programs and events. Some of the ways the community gives back is through scholarships and activities like Relay For Life and the Diehl's Ford Drive One For your School event . In many ways the community helps the school, like the 40 different organizations that came and gave scholarships to deserving seniors, but also the students transform into heros to help the community.This year's student council made donations to a local food bank, Hart For Animals, and the Dove Center. Also Relay for Life participants raised a total of $43,893.87 to help with cancer research! We are very fortunate to have such a supportive community and students enjoy giving back!
